Highways

The Hamlet of Lac La Biche is at the intersection of Highways 881, 36 and 55, facilitating direct routes north to the South Athabasca Oil Sands, east to the Cold Lake deposits, northwest to Wabasca and southwest to the City of Edmonton.

Primary Highway 36, also known as Veterans Memorial Highway, is a major north-south high load corridor extending 626 kilometres south from Lac La Biche to markets in the United States. Primary Highway 55 is an east-west highway that traverses the entire county and provides high load corridor access west to the City of Edmonton, and west to markets across Canada and North America.

The northern section of Highway 881, a high load corridor begins at the junction of Highway 55 and 881 south of Lac La Biche and stretches approximately 115 kilometres north towards Fort McMurray. Highway 881 connects to billions of dollars of oil sands investment. Such efficient high load highway connections make Lac La Biche County perfect for locating manufacturing operations to serve these markets.

Railways

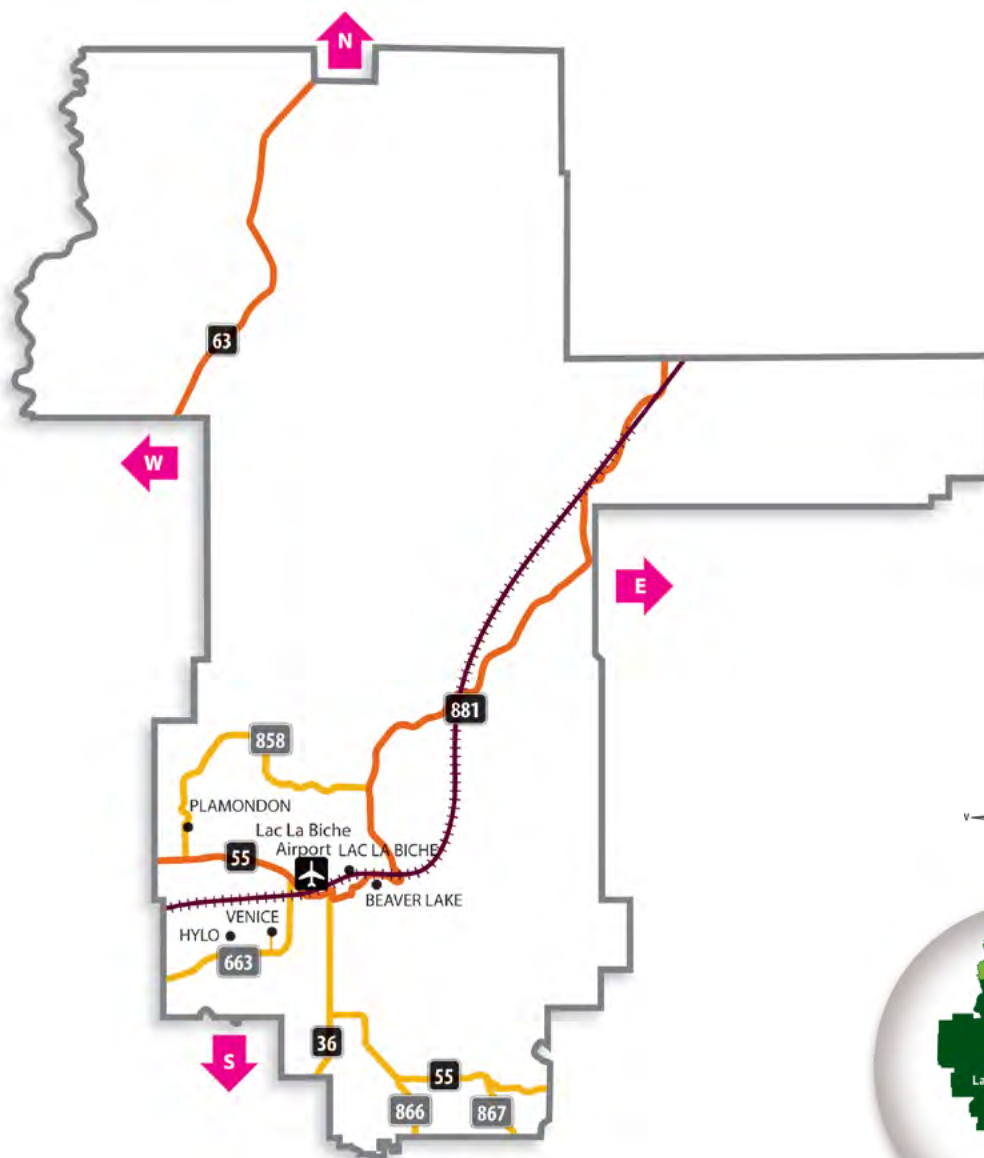

A main Canadian National Rail Line traverses the county extending from Edmonton in the southwest to Fort McMurray in the north. This is a regional asset that can built upon when opportunity calls.
